[From Frazer's Magazine.]

Here we may expect to meet with the choice game bird of the country, the florikin, (Sypheotides auritus.) It is of the bustard family, nearly the size of a hen, the plumage beautifully mottled and barred with dark and light shades of brown and black, the male sometimes wholly black. The chin is white, and there are two or three white feathers in the wings. The male, too, is distinguished by a tuft over each ear, three or four inches long, of three bare-shafted feathers, ending in small oval webs. Its chief food is grasshoppers, and it is often difficult to flush, running long distances through the grass, or lying so close as to allow being stepped over without rising. Its flesh is held to be the most delicate and best flavored of all Indian game birds. Choosing a large open space of grass, we advance in a line with beaters on either side, and dogs working in front, invisible in the tall growth; presently there is a dash and a whimper, and up flies the expected game, a satisfactory shot; and while reloading another springs up and mounting high flies fast away. But this delicate quarry is prized by other foes than the sportsman, and a probable cause of its scarcity and lurking habits is the pertinacity with which hunting hawks will quarter ground like this with keen, downward glance that discerns the least movement in the tallest herbage. As the florikin is speeding away, a chestnut headed, gray backed merlin dashes arrow like from behind a tree and swoops upon it. Eluding the attack by a hair's breadth, the bird dives quickly into the thick grass, and the hawk, recovering itself with light upward sweep, would have followed but for our advance. Though marking exactly the spot we traverse it again and again, but the frightened bird will not rise, till at last it flutters up from the very jaws of a dog. We proceed to beat the remaining ground, and bag another brace, which is fair success in these districts, where florikins are scarce, though plentiful further north. While beating, an agitation among the dogs indicates a danger hardly known to sportsmen at home. Two or three, with raised ears and uneasy yelp, are surrounding some object in the group; we approach and see a large cobra, with its head erect and thrown back swaying to and fro as a dog comes too near; and as we come up the grim-spectacled head expands and a fierce hiss is heard—signs of instant attack, only prevented by a charge of shot. It seems much distended, and after some hesitation and mutterings of "The good snake!" (for so the natives commonly designate the cobra, and rather scruple to molest it, and should they kill one frequently beg its pardon) one of the beaters slits it up and discloses inside another snake, almost half its own size, apparently not long swallowed.

The Chicago Times says that two weddings are announced as imminent in the royal family. Mr. Dent Sharpe, nephew of the President, is to marry Miss Harrell, of St. Louis, and Mr. Ulysses S. Grant, Jr., is to unite with the handsome and wealthy Miss Paul of Philadelphia.

A RECOMMENDATION.—Old Si was asked by one of our merchants:

"Si, do you know a darkey by the name of Davis?"

"Sisero Davis, wid de red eye dat got burn'd in de powder 'splosion?"

"Yes, he's the man."

"Well, I kno's him."

"Is he reliable?"

"Gin'ully, but hit 'pends moughtily on de bizness dat he's gaged in at de time!"

"What business would he suit best in as a porter?"

"Well, ter tell yer de flat-footed, onsofisticated truf, sah, dar's one place whar dat nigger cou'd wuck an' be ez hones' ez de day, an' dat's ez porter in er real 'state sto'! In dat case de o'ner 'ud be lierble fur ter fine de propputy allus jes whar he lef' hit!

The gentleman named Davis was not engaged.

Gov. Hayes remains hard at work at the Captial of Ohio. He is very reticent in regard to the present situation, but one of his friends, the President of the National Bank, says the Governor feels that he has been fairly and honestly elected to the Presideutial chair by 185 votes, and that he he has no idea of future trouble, feeling that all will go right through a legal channel.

Editors breathe easier now. The new counterfeit one-thousand dollar notes now in circulation can be detected by their "greasy feel." It eats into the editor's salary fearfully to get "stuck" with fonr or five such notes a week.

Beecher having said that Commodore Vanderbilt took to singing hymns rather late in life, the St. Louis Republican remarks that if Beecher had stuck to his hymns and let the hers alone, it would have been much better for him.

Florida has a young lady named Neuralgia Dimple. Her mother found it on a medicine bottle, and was captivated with it, which reminds one of what a gaudy name Vermifuge Johnson would be for a boy.

The engagement of Richard Dana, son of the Hon. R. H. Dana Jr., and formerly stroke oar of the Harvard crew, to Miss Alice Longfellow, daughter of the poet, is announced.

The Chinese are the most silent of all the races of mankind, and account for their taciturnity on the ground that they never mind anybody's business but their own.

Did you ever hear a rich man sing? asks the St. Louis Journal. Didn't the rich man sing out for a drop of water?

A gentleman said, when a pretty girl trod on his toes that he had received the stamp of beauty.

Louisiana Investigation.

For several weeks the country has had a batch of political testimony before the Senate and House Committees in reference to the Louisiana Presidential muddle, which is politically nauseating. No one questions the fact that intimidation and fraud existed in that bulldosed State, but that a mass of purchasable evidence, evidence so very transparent, should, for weeks, consume the time of Congressmen, is an exhibit of partisanism disgusting to the people. It seems that instead of honestly inquiring into the real status of affairs in a most impartial manner, and making such a report to Congress, that Senators and Representatives conceived it their duty to make party capital and screen party men from justice. We have now but a confused knowledge of affairs in Louisiana. We can't believe the testimony, only so far as it may seem reasonable, and then we have no proof that even such evidence is truthful.

The House Committee on privileges and elections have been engaged for some time in collecting evidence which carries little weight. Such testimony as that of Littlefield, Pickett and Maddox instead of having the desired effect, must necessarily prejudice the case in minds of Conservative men and so embitter Republicans that the perpetrated frauds will escape due attention and punishment and a premium offered to political dishonesty. The Democrats have entrusted their cause to David Dudley Field, a man who for legal attainments has no peer in the House. He has worked up his case and applies his immense legal knowledge and abilities to obtain a verdict in favor of Tilden, regardless of the moral elements involved therein Such investigations may win for the time, but in the future will react against the party employing such questionable means. One result of the present inquiry is that Republican members of Congress believe that their party is more honest than the Democratic party, and that it has been grossly imposed on. The Democrats believe entirely the opposite. Everything must be made political while statesmanship becomes so enveloped in the swaddling bands of party that a display of intelligent patriotism is nearly impossible. Unless there is a reaction and reform in politics we will very soon become politically a corrupt people. In our minds, however, this reaction is only a question of time. There is a broad underlying strata of political integrity in our Government, our people are naturally honest, and with increasing intelligence and experience we shall continue to grow in power and influence as a nation.

Capitol Commissioners.

This body consists of J. W. Adams, J. D. Minor and W. W. Hobart, and they have just transmitted a report which shows how easy it is to spend $25,000, and ask for $12,000 more. $18,000 of this outlay comes under the head of "beautifying the capitol grounds." Then these grounds have been beautified, a fact which is not generally known, and which we hand over to the press as a valuable news item. It is very strange that this beautiful condition has escaped the Carson papers, and we can only account for it by reason of some hostility to the Board. This large domain has also had a superintendent, and this fact alone goes far to show how difficult and expensive this beautifying process must have been. The miscellaneous articles alone cost $350, while the amount of manure used could not be purchased short of $686. The work of this board has certainly been very onerous and the results very beautiful, except the financial outlook, which does not excite very much admiration and leads us to remark that where we need so much economy this would be a good department to commence with. Experience has shown us that this beautifying process is extensive and costs money. If the Commissioners ask $12,000 they will want $10,000 more, and the whistle is not worth it. Let us hold these beautifiers in check for the present, and when the treasury has been replenished we will introduce an act enabling the board to employ two or three hundred men and complete the work in one year. Pay their bills and allow them to rest from their labors.

The Prison and Houses of Refuge.

The Enterprise of yesterday quotes Mighels' statement in regard to the ownership of the present Prison grounds, and says:

It will be curious and interesting reading to the taxpayers of Nevada. We are sorry that we cannot see the perfectness of the State's title to the Carson Prison property through the same rosy spectacles which makes everything clear to Mr. Mighels. The statement made at first blush looks plain enough, but still these unpleasant facts will intrude themselves, that after years of litigation there is a cloud upon the title, and more, that among the ablest legal ability on the coast is directly interested in pushing the suit. According to the showing made by Mr. Mighels, nearly or quite $200,000 has already been expended upon the property and its improvements. It would be a pity for the State to lose this sum, but it would be a greater pity to lose still more. If the title to this property cannot be fully settled in the State before the last days of the present Legislature, we think it will be the duty of that body to make an appropriation to build a prison somewhere else—probably in Reno, as a good deal of money has already been expended there.

We are glad to notice this impartial tone on the part of the Enterprise. It is what we have asked and looked for, and all that Washoe county asks of the State—that this question may receive fair and careful consideration at the hands of both press and Legislature. Any one who reads Mighels' statement upon the title question can readily see that no title is vested in the State, and that Mitchell's claim was made perfect through the neglect of State officers. Better legal ability than that possessed by Mr. Mighels has been exercised upon this question and decides it without hesitation against the State. Two other points which should be remembered are, that we have been compelled to pay in law suits for these fifteen years of occupation, and that Treadway et als now sue, not for title but for possession. There is practically no question in the Courts as to title, this being a suit for ejection.

We are sorry that Mr. Mighels did not see in advance that to carry the Reform School on one shoulder and the Carson Prison on the other was a heavy burden for one Legislature.

We stated some time since that Mr. Mighels was attempting this stupendous feat and counseled him against its results. We said that it showed a weak cause and would not succeed. In fact the Speaker's evident attempt to make a hoodlum school settle the Prison question was the subject of our recent discussion with the Enterprise. That journal thought we were mistaken in regard to the intent of Mr. Mighels, but subsequent events and Thursday's Legislative proceedings would go far towards proving our position to be correct.

TELEGRAPHIC.

A Washington special of yesterday says: Grant visited the Treasury Department this morning for the purpose of collecting some additional data which he desires to use in the preparation of his forthcoming special message on the early resumption of specie payments. The President held a short conference with Assistant Secretary Conant on the subject. On his return to the Executive office he began the formal preparation of his message. To-day in conversation the President said he hopes to have a rough draft of the message prepared in time to submit it at the Cabinet meeting to-morrow.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The Secretary of War will to-day transmit to the House as an answer to Jenks' resolution of January 19, 1876, raquesting a careful and exact survey of the distance on the Union Pacific and Central Pacific Railroads between Council Bluffs and Sacramento. The report of Captain Tiviling of the Engineer corps, to whom the duty was assigned, shows that the length of each of these railroads is somewhat greater than was shown by the original measurements upon which subsidies were issued. The amount of error is for the Union Pacific one mile and a quarter, and for the Central Pacific a little less than a mile.

Julius Schloss and Ferdinand Malinger, two wealthy Californians, came very near being swindled by New York sharpers yesterday. The Californians were at the Bremen steamer wharf, about to sail for Germany, when John Brown and Josiah Capen attempted to sell them bogus bonds. The Californians were about to consummate the purcha- when policemen arrested the sharks, who are still held as well known offenders.

A special from Goshen, Indiana, says a young Belgian named Wonderholper was arrested there yesterday, on a charge of forgeries to the amount of half a million francs. He will be taken to New York to await extradition.

The President yesterday nominated J. P. Dingleberger Postmaster at Los Angeles, Cal., and N. H. Owings, Secretary of Washington Territory.

BARNS DAMAGED—Our ranchers came in for their share of the damage ensuing from the late thaw. The barn of James Winfrey succumbed yesterday to the weight of snow upon its roof and spread apart about two feet. The walls have been secured in this position but the damage cannot be repaired without considerable cost. Geo. Alt's large barn was also found to be in a dangerous plight to-day, and the snow was removed from the roof just in time. The rafters had spread about four inches when the danger was discovered just in time to prevent a total wreck.

THANKS.—We have received the following valuable documents from Senator Boardman: Reports, of Capitol Commissioners, Treasurer and Warden. From Senator Ross, several bills lately introduced in the Senate. Also a copy of the State Constitution, and the rules governing the Legislature. Our thanks are returned for these favors.

A Just Sentence.

Thos. Kelly Sentenced to Imprisonment in the State Prison for the Term of his Natural Life.

This morning at 10 o'clock the court room was crowded with spectators who had assembled to hear the sentence passed by Judge Wright in the case of the State vs. Thos. Kelly. The prisoner was led into the court room and requested by the Judge to stand up. The Court then addressed the prisoner in the following words:

"Thomas Kelly, you were indicted by the Grand Jury of Washoe county for the crime of murder, to which indictment, in due time, you entered the plea of 'not guilty.' You were afterwards tried by a jury of your peers, one of your own selection, and by them convicted of the crime of murder in the second degree. Have you now any legal cause to show why judgment of this Court should not at this time be pronounced upon you?"

The defendant's counsel, Mr. Varian, here interposed a motion for a new trial, in arrest of judgment, which motion being overruled the Court proceeded to say: "The better emotions of the human heart prompt feelings of sympathy and pity towards our fellow creatures when under the cloud of misfortune and adversity. To say that you are unfortunate would be merely a misstatement of the true position which you now occupy. I am not disposed to refer in detail to the various scenes of the cruel tragedy in which you were so prominent an actor, but will content myself with saying, that after hearing the testimony in the case, and after a week's reflection, I am of the deliberate opinion that you are entitled to no further consideration of mercy than was extended to you by the jury in finding you guilty of murder in the second degree; therefore, it becomes my duty, in compliance with the demands of justice, to inflict upon you the highest penalty fixed by law. The judgment of the Court therefore is that you be imprisoned in the Nevada State Prison for the full period of your natural life."

Kelly expected that the sentence would be severe, but betrayed no signs of emotion. The Sheriff led him away to jail, the crowd dispersed, and a solemn quietness pervaded the court room. Deputy Sheriff Chamberlain remained with the prisoner until noon when Kelly was taken to the V. & T. noon train for Carson. A number of persons assembled on the platform, and several friends bid him a final adieu. We found him quiet but feeling that his sentence was unjust. He remarked that he had been subjected to immense prejudice, and, had he received justice, he would have been a free man.

The Conductor called "all aboard," and Thomas Kelly passed on rapidly to his future home. The spectators slowly turned away, few said anything, and all resumed their former employment. And thus, notwithstanding the almost universal opinion of the justice of the Court's sentence, "the quality of mercy is not strained." The natural sympathy of the human heart was awakened and men could not but realize the severity of the sentence, and shudder at the punishment which man has awarded to man's infirmities.

A NEW INVENTION.—We saw a genuine lusus naturæ this morning in the way of a Spanish merino ram, the property of Mr. Samuel Moore. The ram was raised in San Benito county, Cal., and is now ten months old, and a fine healthy fellow. He has distinct double hind parts. His two tails are perfect, and the extra pair of hind legs are nearly as large as the others, and are nearly as perfect, having all the necessary bones, etc. They are merely reversed in position, and are probably designed for Sunday use, or else when he felt crabbed, that he might go back on himself. His owner has had him on exhibition at Virginia City, and may give our citizens a chance to see him, and the woman of iron muscle to-morrow. He then goes east to show to the ultramontanes what the Pacific Coast can produce in the way of a variety of sheep.

SINGER.—W. McBride is located with Sanders and Co. on Virginia st., and would like the ladies to call and examine his stock of Singer sewing machines, for which he is agent. Mr. McBride will soon enlarge his stock and be prepared to demonstrate the superior worth of the Singer.

Engine 48 is on a visit to Wadsworth. She will be be blowed out before returning.

We were informed that the locomotive of the wood train running between Huffaker's and Virginia City, last night ran into the caboose of train No. 26, doing it considerable damage.

The Board of Trade meet this evening at the usual time and place.

Vacation in the Police Court to-day.

The jury trial of the tramp will come off some time next week.

Flynn is just alive and that is all. The poor fellow simply dying by inches. His blood is terribly poisoned, and he eats nothing whatever. His death is hourly expected.

CARD OF THANKS.—As Kelly was about leaving on the train he gave us the following card of thanks to the officers of the county jail:

Gentlemen: now that my trial has ended, and I am shortly to leave your midst, I consider it my duty to return you all thanks for the kind and gentlemanly manner in which I have been treated by you all during my long term of imprisonment. Sheriff Jones, Messrs. Avery and Kinkead, while in office did all in their power to make me as comfortable and contented as they could, and their kindness to me I shall never forget. I also return my thanks to Sheriff Lamb, and his deputies, Messrs. Young and Chamberlain, for their constant and untiring efforts in my behalf. These gentlemen have all proved themselves worthy of the high positions which they hold. Accept my thanks, and believe me, gentlemen,

Yours sincerely,
THOMAS KELLY.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—John Sunderland, the old established and popular boot and shoe merchant of Reno, announces to-day that he appreciates the hard times and means to keep pace with them. We visited his cellar and found it full to overflowing with boots, shoes and rubber goods, which he proposes to sell at his usual popular rates. Everybody who knows Sunderland and has examined his fine store and workshop knows that he will stay and has succeeded by selling what he can recommend and at rates which defy competition.

HARVEST FEAST.—Alfalfa Grange No. 1 met this afternoon and enjoyed their Harvest Feast. We asked several members what might be the occasion of the hilarity, and they gave us a variety of answers. One said that whenever they gathered in some fresh Grangers to the fold, a harvest feast was strictly in order. With this view, a harvest feast must mean prosperity, and we hope it may prove so for the Grangers make up the solid portion of our community.

INSTALLATION.—The following officers were installed in the Haswell Lodge No. 18, I. O. G. T., last evening: W. C. T., T. F. Laycock; W. V. T., Miss Eva Barnes; W. S., James Wylie; W. F. S., G. E. Hall; W. T., Miss Josie M. Barnes; W. M., John McAskell; W. D. M., J. A. Hill; W. I. G., Mrs. Kate Jones; W. O. G., William Rogers; P. W. C. T., John F. Aiken; W. C., George G. Brooks; W. R. H. S., Miss Nellie Miles; W. L. H. S., Miss Mary Upson; W. A. S., Miss Ella Copeland.

NEW VOLUME.—The Territorial Enterprise has entered upon its thirty-fourth volume, and is still recognized as the leading paper of the State. Through seventeen years it has watched the cause of Republicanism, and now begins another year even more vigorous and vigilant than ever. The Enterprise still enjoys the result of Daggett and Goodmans' labor and genius, and through them has enjoyed an established reputation for years.

DISTRICT COURT.—In the case of Jas. Kinkead (assignee for S. S. Watson) vs. Jas. Mayberry, ten days was allowed plaintiff to file answer to demurrer. Plaintiff to a divorce case was allowed ten days in which to correct complaint. Kelly was sentenced to imprisonment in the State Prison for life. Court adjourned until Thursday, February 8th.

POSTPONED. — The stockholder's meeting of the North Side Truckee Ditch Co, which was called for to-day at 1 P. M. has been postponed. A majority of the stock not being represented the meeting adjourned subject to a call from the Trustees,

GONE.—A. J. Hatch and family have gone west in search of a sea breeze. They will make life pleasant by a short sojourn in the sinful city.

☞ CARDS.—Pierce Evans, Attorney at Law, office on Virginia street, announces that he will do a general collection business.

THE VALUE OF AN APPLE.—At a recent meeting of the New York Farmers' Club a member said that of all fruits grown in the Northern States the apple is the most easily raised, the cheapest and the most durable, and gave the following rotation in the culture of orchards: The first year plow, manure and sow oats and clover, and mow the oats for fodder; the third year take off the clover crop and plow in the Fall, preparatory to the potato crop which is to follow. Thus the land will be manured two years out of three, a good crop of oats and clover taken off, and a tolerable crop of potatoes, without apparent injury to the trees. In selecting trees, varieties such as come into use at different seasons should be introduced, so as to secure a supply for the whole year. The common error of setting the trees too near each other was referred to and cautioned against by this member, who thought that thirty feet apart is much better than nearer, as apples require both sun and air. No fruit, unless it be the grape, is more dependent on the sun for its flavor and color than the apple.

It is said that the railway officials in England are much annoyed at the bad example of the Marquis of Waterford in riding third-class. They tried to break him of the habit by giving a sweep a seat beside him, but he simply bought a first-class ticket for the sweep, and returned to his former seat.

An admirer of Bret Harte protests through the New York Tribune against his having any literary partnership with Mark Twain, asserting that association with the latter will ruin the poet. Mr. Twain's friends—and their name is legion—ought to be heard from in the matter.

Butter made from suet is used in the Massachusetts State Workhouse, and in similar institutions throughout New England. It is said, too, that the article is largely bought by keepers of fashionable hotels for cooking purposes.

Russian war vessels in the Caspian are hereafter to use petroleum instead of coal. Experiment with the new fuel have proved so satisfactory that within a few weeks the furnaces of seven vessels will have been altered to suit the material.

The following is an example of didactic humor, which is afforded by a New Jersey graveyard:

"Here lies the body of Mary Ann Lowder;
She burst while drinking a Seidlitz powder;
Called from this world to heavenly rest,
She should have waited till it effervesced."

An ink-stand was turned over upon a white tablecloth; a servant threw over it a mixture of salt and pepper plentifully, and all traces of it disappeared. Make a note of this.

The San Francisco Democrats are again squabbling among themselves. They are always squabbling, because they are always hungry. They vote solid though.

The students at Dartmouth college are to have a celebration on Washington's birthday, and ex-Senator Patterson has been selected to read the farewell address.

Time brings its revenges. Sergeant Bates' present address is the back-yard of any man in Bloomington that wants his wood sawed.

The British China fleet is reported on the way across to protect Esquimault and Victoria.

It is strongly intimated that Mormon officials at Ogden, Utah, have been guilty of crookedness.
